QUESTION PRESENTED

Under the desert land laws of the United States, the Petitioners strongly believe they have a statutory right to confirm and patent their consolidated Desert Land Entries (DLE) and Assignments. The lower courts in the Ninth Circuit have dismissed its mandamus judicial jurisdiction, contrary to the landmark Federal holding of this Court. The question presented is:

Did the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and its District Court of Nevada unjustly fail and disregard its circuit duty to consider the "receiver's receipt" instrument and to judicially try the Appellants' administratively exhausted statutory land patent right provided in 43 USCA § 1165, as expressed in the Bureau of Land Management patent regulation 43 CFR § 1862.6, as required under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) 5 USC §§ 701-706, as mandated by the stare decisis doctrine of this Court in its landmark decision Stockley, et al., v. United States, 260 U.S. 532 (1923), and is such rebellious failure of judicial duty an arbitrary blockade against any or all desert farming on federal public lands, in strict violation to the due process of law in the 5th Amendment of the United States Constitution, that guarantees the Appellants and any other valid Desert Land Entryman a judicial trial on their administratively exhausted desert land patent right?

And did such lower courts disregard the Appellants' right to contract 43 USCA § 324 - Assignment of entries, by entertaining the clear fraud on the court, misrepresented by the Defendants and their counsel, who falsely stated that the Bureau of Land Management's "Mineral in Character" contest was not fully argued and finally "reversed" in Franklin, 116 IBLA 29, 31 (1990)?

PARTIES TO THE PROCEEDINGS

The Petitioners, Plaintiffs-Appellants below, are:

1) Bobby Len Franklin, Desert Land Entryman N-49548, which was consolidated by final order IBLA 96-111, 96-163, with his father Bobby Dean Franklin, Desert Land Entryman N-52292. The legal description of their consolidated entries is the S.E. 1/4 of Section 16, T. 32 S., R. 66 E., Mount Diablo Meridian, consisting of (a square) 160-acres. Bobby Dean Franklin is not a party to the proceedings, due to his age and health problems. He is now 75-years old.
2) Robert Lee Franklin individually purchased a 20-acre Assignment in such consolidated entries, from his father Bobby Len Franklin, pursuant to 43 USC § 324, on October 11, 2002. Such Assignment is recorded in the lower courts and the Clark County Recorder's Office, with all State transfer taxes paid.
3) Donna Sue Owens, individually purchased a 20-acre Assignment in such consolidated entries, from her brother Bobby Len Franklin, pursuant to 43 USC § 324, on August 23, 2002. Such Assignment is recorded in the lower courts and the Clark County Recorder's Office, with all State transfer taxes paid.

The Respondents, Defendants-Appellees below, are:

1) UNITED STATES, Department of the Interior Board of Land Appeals (IBLA), the final decision maker for such administrative (Interior) agency; and,
2) Mark Morse, District Manager, Las Vegas District, Nevada, Bureau of Land Management (BLM), who has the ministerial duty to issue public land patents in such District, 43 CFR § 1862.6.

I. LOWER COURT DISMISSAL - JURISDICTION

All administrative remedies have been exhausted on Appellants' statutory land patent rights, under 43 CFR § 1862.6, 43 USC § 1165, Stockley, et al., v U.S., 260 U.S. 532 (1923), for judicial review. The District Court dismissed its original mandamus jurisdiction 28 USC § 1361, on 6/9/04. On 4/4/05, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed such summary dismissal in an unpublished Memorandum. As invoked under 28 USC § 1254(1), this Court has jurisdiction to compel such lower courts to abide by its landmark holding of Stockley. Please see, Appendix, Table of Contents.

II. THE ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES EXHAUSTED

The administrative (Interior) record clearly shows that Appellant-Bobby Len Franklin (Bobby) purchased his Desert Land Entry (DLE) N-49548, from the Appellee-Bureau of Land Management (BLM), under the desert land laws of the United States, 43 USCA 321 et seq. - Entry right generally. The relevant facts in chronological record are:

1. On 8/26/88, the BLM issued Bobby a "receiver's receipt", showing Bobby had paid all required filing fees and the money required for the desert land.
2. On 8/27/90, pursuant to 43 USC § 322 – Deserts lands defined, the Interior Board of Land Appeals (IBLA) "reversed" the BLM "mineral in character" contest it filed against Bobby's DLE, and "remanded" BLM for action consistent with such opinion, in Franklin, 116 IBLA 29, 31 (1990). [1]

[1] The lower courts have entertained the fraud on the court perjured by Assistant U.S. Attorney BLAINE WELSH, Nevada Bar #4790, and the Appellees, who have falsely testified for the last 15-years that the BLM's "mineral in character" contest was not fully argued and finally "reversed" in Franklin, 116 IBLA 29, 31 (1990).

3. On 10/27/95, the BLM issued a decision stating that Bobby was never issued a "receiver's receipt". The BLM contended "In order for any right to title to the land to vest in the applicant, the BLM must issue an entry allowed decision" (register's certificate). Bobby timely appealed again to IBLA, this time demanding patent to his suspended entry, under such statutory patent law, on appeal.
4. On 12/19/96, the IBLA finally ordered that "Desert Land Entries N-49548, N-52292" be "consolidated" (inter alia), and then "dismissed" the Franklin statutory patent rights cited, in IBLA 96-111, 96-163.
5. On 8/23/02 and 10/11/02, pursuant to 43 USCA § 324 – Assignment of entries, Bobby contracted assignments of his DLE with Appellants Donna Owens and Robert Franklin respectively. The BLM adversely refused to clear-list such assignments with the Clark County Assessor and title insurance company, by wrongfully telling them that Bobby's DLE was "mineral in character", while knowing IBLA had finally "reversed" that issue in 1990.

All Interior remedies were unequivocally exhausted for judicial patent relief.

III. THE JUDICIAL REMEDIES EXHAUSTED

The judicial record clearly shows that Bobby has exhausted all administrative remedies to clear-list and patent his consolidated DLE, but he never has had a judicial trial to enforce his statutory land patent rights. The facts are:

1. On 2/2/04, the named Appellants filed a complaint for such statutory patent relief in the District Court of Nevada, seeking judicial review of such adverse Interior actions committed, and the patent remedies exhausted, as required under the APA law.

2. On 6/8/04, the district court dismissed such complaint for statutory patent relief, for "lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter." and for "failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted." (Rule 12).
3. On 6/22/04, the Plaintiffs filed Motion for Relief from Judgment or Order, Rule 60(b), because the Order repeatedly misrepresented the Interior record on file, and completely failed to address the Plaintiffs' statutory patent rights on file that were administratively exhausted.
4. On 7/30/04, the district court denied Rule 60 (b) relief.
5. On 4/4/05, after the parties filed briefs, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the district court summary dismissal(s), in an unpublished Memorandum not appropriate for publication.

IV. ARGUMENT

The district court (irrelevant dicta) falsely implied the BLM mineral in character contest was not fully argued and "reversed" by IBLA on 8/27/90, and falsely implied Bobby had lost his statutory patent rights somewhere in a judicial court. Truth is, Bobby has never had a judicial trial on his administratively exhausted statutory patent right, and the district court failed to do its duty of addressing such exhausted statutory patent right, contrary to law. Nowhere in its summary dismissal(s) ever addressed the "receiver's receipt" issued to Bobby on 8/26/88, which is the only "instrument" for judicial consideration in this Case. A copy of the disregarded "receiver's receipt"; 43 CFR § 1862.6; 43 USC § 1165; 5 USC § 706; and, Stockley, et al., v. United States, 260 U.S. 532 (1923) are indexed in the Appendix of this petition, for consideration.

The unpublished Ninth Circuit Memorandum (dicta) reviewed nothing de novo because it also omitted the Appellants statutory land patent rights on appeal, disregarded the "receiver's receipt" on record, and mistakenly states the appeal is from district court dismissing their appeal from the Interior's "denial of their application for Desert Land Entry under 42 U.S.C. 321 et seq." Fact is, the Appellants are on appeal from their administratively exhausted statutory patent right, under contract, which both lower courts refused to address and recklessly disregarded. A copy of the district court summary dismissal order(s) and the unpublished Ninth Circuit Memorandum on appeal, are chronologically indexed in the Appendix.

The Appellants pray this Court considers Bobby's "receiver's receipt" issued to him and judicially recognizes his statutory patent rights under the stare decises doctrine, and consider that all Appellants depended upon the statutory title right asserted by Stockley, exactly like all Appellants depend upon the statutory title right asserted by Bobby. [2]

As it is written in the landmark United States Supreme Court holding in Stockley, the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals should be reversed, and the cause remanded to the District Court with directions to confirm the Appellants' patent right to their titles.

[2] The Franklins have invested the last 17-years of their life and liberty into developing their DLE property. In 2002, the noted statutory assignments were recorded, but BLM adversely clouded such assignments. On 5/4/05, Appellants filed a "Notice of Abeyance" in the recorder's office, awaiting a judicial trial on their statutory land patent rights, as the due process of law guarantees. On 6/15/05, a "BLM Land Auction" has been set to transfer the Appellants' desert land to another. On 5/10/05, Dan O'Brien, Unit Chief of the FBI Fraud Unit, Washington, D.C., has assigned the Las Vegas Field Division of FBI to investigate this and other related matters of fraud and corruption in (Laughlin) Clark County, Nevada.

V. CONCLUSION

The Petition for a Writ of Certiorari should be granted.

Pursuant to 28 USC §1746, we state under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on this 28th day of July, 2005.

Bobby Len Franklin, Robert Lee Franklin, and Donna Sue Owens appeal pro se from the district court's judgment dismissing their appeal from the Department of Interior Board of Land Appeals' decision affirming the Bureau of Land Management's denial of their application for Desert Land Entry under 42 U.S.C. § 321 et seq. Appellants also appeal the district court's order denying their motion for relief from judgment and their motion for trial by jury. We have jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1291. We review de novo the district court's determination that it lacked subject matter jurisdiction, see Botsford v. Blue Cross & Blue Shield of Montana, Inc., 314 F.3d 390, 392 (9th Cir. 2002), and for abuse of discretion its denial of a motion to reconsider, see Ayers v. City of Richmond, 895 F.2d 1267, 1269 (9th Cir. 1990).

We affirm for the reasons set forth in the district court's orders dated June 8, 2004 and July 30, 2004.

Appellants' remaining contentions are unpersuasive.

AFFIRMED.

ORDER* (Motion for Relief from Judgment or Order #21; Plaintiff's Motion and Demand for Trial by Jury #20)

Before the Court is Plaintiffs' Motion for Relief from Judgment or Order (#21), filed June 22, 2004. The Court has also considered Defendants' Opposition (#22), filed July 9, 2004, and Defendants' Reply (#23), filed July 21, 2004. Also before the Court is Plaintiffs' Motion and Demand for Trial by Jury (#20), filed June 22, 2004.

BACKGROUND

As stated in the Court's order of June 9, 2004, the facts in this case are as follows. This is an action in which Plaintiffs seek judicial review of an order of the Interior Board of Land Appeals ("IBLA"), issued December 19, 1996. In 1995, Plaintiff Bobby Len Franklin ("Franklin"), and his father, Plaintiff Robert Lee Franklin ("R. Franklin"), sent letters to Defendant Bureau of Land Management ("BLM") questioning the BLM's 1988 and subsequent 1993 denials of Franklin's request for Desert Land Entry ("DLE"). In response, the Las Vegas District Manager of the

BLM sent identical letters, dated October 27, 1995, to both men, with information pertaining to the mens' questions, and stating that the BLM was closing the Plaintiffs' files concerning the DLE application as no available appeals procedures remain. Franklin and R. Franklin appealed those letters to the IBLA. The IBLA dismissed the Franklins' appeal on the grounds that the men were attempting to use the October 1995 informational letters to appeal the 1993 denial of Franklin's DLE application, a right Franklin had waived by neglecting to appeal the 1993 denial to the IBLA within 30 days of its issuance. Furthermore, the IBLA found that the letters themselves did not "adversely affect" the men within the meaning of 43 C.F.R. § 4.410(a), and therefore were not appealable. The two men, with Plaintiff Donna Sue Owens ("Owens") now seek judicial review of the IBLA's 1996 dismissal of their appeals from the 1995 informational letters.

The history of this perpetual case is extensive. On August 8, 1988, Franklin filed a DLE application with the BLM in an attempt to acquire title to an 80-acre parcel of land near Laughlin, Nevada (the site) from the U.S. government. On October 13, 1988, the BLM denied Franklin's application on the grounds that the property was not subject to disposition under the Desert Land Act because the land was mineral in character, and appropriated by mining claims. Franklin timely appealed to the IBLA, and in an order dated August 27, 1990, the IBLA reversed the decision and remanded the issue so that BLM could survey the land to determine whether the site was in fact mineral in nature and therefore whether it was subject to disposition.

Instead of waiting for the BLM's decision on remand, Franklin filed an action in Federal Court on May 6, 1991. This Court dismissed the action on August 20, 1991 for improper service of process, failure to exhaust administrative remedies under the Administrative Procedures Act, failure to name the United States as a proper defendant under the Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 U.S.C. §§2671, et seq., and failure to provide defendants adequate notice regarding the facts that Franklin believed supported his complaint. Franklin appealed the dismissal to the Ninth Circuit, which affirmed on the service of process issue. Franklin v. Clark County Manager's Office, et al., 967 F.2d 586 (9th Cir. 1992) (unpublished disposition). Subsequently, Franklin filed a Petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Supreme Court, which the Court denied. Franklin v. Clark County Manager's Office, et al., 508 U.S. 916 (1993).

BLM issued its decision on remand November 12, 1993, once again rejecting Franklin's DLE application. After survey and investigation, the BLM decided the property was in fact mineral in nature, and therefore not subject to disposition under the Desert Land Act. The decision set out Franklin's appeal rights, which were the same he had followed years earlier when he appealed the BLM's first rejection of his DLE application. Franklin had 30 days to appeal the decision to the IBLA. He did not do so.

Instead of appealing to the IBLA, Franklin filed another suit in Federal Court November 22, 1993, this time seeking to quiet title to the site. On May 16, 1994, this Court granted the United States' motion to for lack of subject matter jurisdiction, on the grounds that Franklin had failed to exhaust his administrative remedies by neglecting to file an appeal of the BLM's final decision with the IBLA.

Franklin appealed the District Court's dismissal to the Ninth Circuit, which again affirmed the dismissal. Franklin v. United States, 46 F.3d 1140 (9th Cir. 1995)(unpublished disposition). Again, Franklin filed a petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Supreme Court, which was again denied. Franklin v. United States, 516 U.S. 829 (1995).

In 1995, Franklin enclosed a portion of the site with a chain link fence and began occupying the site. The BLM advised Franklin that the use was unauthorized and requested that he leave. Franklin refused to do so. The United States instituted a trespass action against Franklin. Franklin counter-sued asserting that he owned the property. On October 14, 1997, this Court enjoined Franklin from any further trespass on the property. The District Court dismissed

Franklin's counter-claim for lack of subject matter jurisdiction for the same reason it had done so in 1994.

Later in 1997, Franklin filed yet another suit in Federal Court, which was again dismissed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. Again, Franklin appealed to the Ninth Circuit, which again affirmed the District Court's dismissal. Franklin v. Bilbray, 172 F.3d 56 (9th Cir. 1999) (unpublished disposition). Franklin again filed a Petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Supreme Court, which was again denied. Franklin v. Bilbray, 528 U.S. 863 (1999).

In the instant action, Franklin joined with new Plaintiffs, R. Franklin and Owens, seeking this Court's review of issues arising from the rejection of Franklin's DLE application for the fifth time, this time seeking review of the IBLA's 1996 dismissal for lack of jurisdiction of Franklin and R. Franklin's appeal from the informational letters from BLM. On June 9, 2004, this Court dismissed the action on several grounds. Specifically, this Court lacks jurisdiction over the subject matter of these claims as Plaintiffs failed to exhaust their administrative remedies, the claims are time-barred by the applicable statute of limitations, and the claims are precluded under the doctrine of res judicata. Plaintiffs have now moved this Court for relief from the order dismissing Plaintiffs' claim. Plaintiffs have also moved for trial by jury. For the reasons established herein, Plaintiffs' motions are denied.

DISCUSSION

Plaintiffs have moved this Court for relief from its order of June 8, 2004, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b). As a preliminary matter, because Plaintiffs appear pro se, the Court has construed their pleadings liberally. See Resnick v. Hayes, 213 F.3d 443, 447 (9th Cir. 2000).

Under Rule 60(b), a court may relieve a party from a final judgment, order or proceeding only for the following reasons: (1) mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect; (2) newly discovered evidence; (3) fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct of an adverse party; (4) the judgment is void; (5) the judgment is satisfied, released, or discharged, or a prior judgment on which it is based has been reversed; or (6) any other reason justifying relief from the judgment. A motion for reconsideration is properly denied when it presents no arguments that were not already raised in the original motion. See Backlund v. Barnhart, 778 F.2d 1386, 1388 (9th Cir. 1985).

Motions for reconsideration are not "the proper vehicles for rehashing old arguments," Resolution Trust Corp. v. Holmes, 846 F.Supp. 1310, 1316 (S.D.Tex. 1994) (footnotes omitted), and are not "intended to give an unhappy litigant one additional chance to sway the judge." Durkin v. Taylor, 444 F.Supp. 879, 889 (E.D.Va. 1977).

Here, Plaintiffs assert that they are entitled to relief from the Court's order pursuant to Rule 60(b)(3), (4), (5), and (6).

I. Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(3)

Plaintiffs argue that they are entitled to relief from the Court's order, pursuant to Rule 60(b)(3), on the grounds that the Court's dismissal of Plaintiffs' claims was predicated upon a fraud perpetrated by Defendants. Plaintiffs argue that Defendants fraudulently represented to this Court that Plaintiff Franklin did not successfully appeal the BLM's determination that the land in question was, in fact, mineral in character. Defendants' representation was not fraudulent; it was true. Plaintiffs timely appealed to the IBLA the BLM's first determination that the land was mineral in character. The IBLA reversed the decision because the appropriate factual findings had not been made. The IBLA remanded the matter to the BLM to conduct the necessary investigation to determine whether the land was, in fact, mineral in character. The BLM issued its ruling on remand that the land was mineral in character. Plaintiffs never appealed the BLM's determination on remand to the IBLA. Plaintiffs' failure to do so necessarily means that this Court lacks jurisdiction over the subject matter of Plaintiffs' claims.

In their instant motion, Plaintiffs rehash the fraud argument they have presented throughout this action. The Court addressed, in its prior order, that Defendants' arguments, with respect to Plaintiffs' failure to exhaust their administrative remedies, are true and correct. The Court will not continue trying to explain to Plaintiffs why Defendants' representation is not fraudulent.

Accordingly, Plaintiffs have not met the standard for relief from the Court's order pursuant to Rule 60(b)(3).

II. Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(4)

Plaintiffs also contend that the Court's order of June 8, 2004, is void, and that Plaintiffs are therefore entitled to relief from the order, pursuant to Rule 60(b)(4). In support of this contention, Plaintiffs rehash the fraud argument discussed above, and argue that the six year statute of limitations applied by the Court is not valid in this case. The parties fully briefed these issues when the motion to dismiss was before the Court, and the Court fully addressed them in its previous order. The Court will not repeat itself here.

III. Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(5)

Plaintiffs also contend that they are entitled to relief from the Court's order, pursuant to Rule 60(b)(5). Specifically, Plaintiffs argue that the Court's previous order was based upon a prior judgment that has been reversed. In support of this contention, Plaintiffs rely on their old standby argument, that the BLM's original denial of Plaintiff Franklin's application was reversed by the IBLA. For the reasons discussed ad nauseum throughout Plaintiffs' perpetual litigation concerning this matter, the Court's ruling was not based on a judgment that has been reversed. Accordingly, Plaintiffs have not met the standard for relief from the Court's order, pursuant to Rule 60(b)(5).

IV. Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(6)

Finally, Plaintiffs contend that they are entitled to relief from the Court's order, pursuant to Rule 60(b)(6). In support of this contention, Plaintiffs appear to argue that the Court committed prejudicial error by refusing to examine Plaintiffs' asserted property rights. As the Court has previously established, it cannot do so because it lacks jurisdiction over the subject matter of Plaintiffs' claims, the applicable statute of limitations has run, and the claims are precluded under the doctrine of res judicata. Plaintiffs have failed to establish a valid reason justifying relief from this Court's order of June 8, 2004, pursuant to Rule 60(b)(6).

V. Motion for Trial by Jury

As Plaintiffs' claims have been dismissed, there will not be a trial. Accordingly, Plaintiffs' motion is denied as moot.

VI. Sanctions

To the extent that Plaintiffs have requested sanctions in their motion for relief from judgment, the frivolous request is denied.

CONCLUSI N

Accordingly, and for good cause appearing,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Plaintiffs' Motion for Relief from Judgment or Order (#21) is DENIED.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Plaintiffs' Motion and Demand for Trial by Jury (#20) is DENIED.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that to the extent Plaintiffs have requested sanctions, the request is DENIED.

UNITED STATES, et al.,
Defendants.
No. CV-S-04-0128-RLH-(PAL)
ORDER* (Motion to Dismiss #10)
ENTERED Jun 9, 2004

Before the Court is Defendants' Motion to Dismiss Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(1) and (6) (#10), filed April 29, 2004. The Court has also considered Plaintiffs' Opposition (#12), filed May 12, 2004, and Defendants' Reply (#13), filed May 25,2004. Also before the Court is Plaintiffs' Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 11 (#14), filed June 2, 2004. The Court has also considered Defendant's Opposition (#15), filed May 26, 2004, and Plaintiff's Reply (#17), filed June 2, 2004.

BACKGROUND

This is an action in which Plaintiffs seek judicial review of an order of the Interior Board of Land Appeals ("IBLA"), issued December 19, 1996. In 1995, Plaintiff Bobby Len Franklin ("Franklin"), and his father, Plaintiff Robert Lee Franklin ("R. Franklin"), sent letters to Defendant Bureau of Land Management ("BLM") questioning the BLM's 1988 and subsequent 1993 denials of Franklin's request for Desert Land Entry ("DLE"). In response, the Las Vegas District Manager of the BLM sent identical letters, dated October 27, 1995, to both men, with information pertaining to the men's questions, and stating that the BLM was closing the Plaintiffs' files concerning the DLE application as no available appeals procedures remained. Franklin and R. Franklin appealed those letters to the IBLA. The IBLA dismissed the Franklins' appeal on the grounds that the men were attempting to use the October 1995 informational letters to appeal the 1993 denial of Franklin's DLE application, a right Franklin had waived by neglecting to appeal the 1993 denial to the IBLA within 30 days of its issuance. Furthermore, the IBLA found that the letters themselves did not "adversely affect" the men within the meaning of 43 C.F.R. § 4.410(a), and therefore were not appealable. The two men, with Plaintiff Donna Sue Owens ("Owens"), now seek judicial review of the IBLA's 1996 dismissal of their appeal from the 1995 informational letters.

The history of this perpetual case is extensive. On August 8, 1988, Franklin filed a DLE application with the BLM in an attempt to acquire title to an 80-acre parcel of land near Laughlin, Nevada (the site) from the U.S. government. On October 13, 1988, the BLM denied Franklin's application on the grounds that the property was not subject to disposition under the Desert Land Act because the land was mineral in character, and appropriated by mining claims. Franklin timely appealed to the IBLA, and in an order dated August 27, 1990, the IBLA reversed the decision and remanded the issue so that the BLM could survey the land to determine whether the site was in fact mineral in nature and therefore whether it was subject to disposition.

Instead of waiting for the BLM's decision on remand, Franklin filed action in Federal Court on May 6, 1991. This Court dismissed the action on August 29, 1991 for improper service of process, failure to exhaust administrative remedies under the Administrative Procedures Act, failure to name the United States as a proper defendant under the Federal Torts Claims Act, 26 U.S.C. §§2671, et seq., and failure to provide adequate notice regarding the facts that Franklin believed supported his complaint. Franklin appealed the dismissal to the Ninth Circuit, which affirmed on the service of process issue. Franklin v. Clark County Manager's Office, et al., 967 F.2d 586 (9th Cir. 1992) (unpublished disposition). Subsequently Franklin filed a Petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Supreme Court, which was denied. Franklin v. Clark County Manager's Office, et al., 508 U.S. 916 (1993).

BLM issued its decision on remand November 12, 1993, once again rejecting Franklin's DLE application. After survey and investigation, the BLM decided the property was in fact mineral in character, and therefore not subject to disposition under the Desert Land Act. The decision set out Franklin's appeal rights, which were the same he had followed years earlier when he appealed the BLM's first rejection of his DLE application. Franklin had 30 days to appeal the decision to the IBLA. He did not do so.

Instead of appealing to the IBLA, Franklin filed another suit in Federal Court November 22, 1993, this time seeking to quiet title to the site. On May 16, 1994, this Court granted the United States' motion to dismiss for lack of subject matter jurisdiction, on the grounds that Franklin had failed to exhaust his administrative remedies by neglecting to file an appeal of the BLM's final decision with the IBLA.

Franklin appealed the District Court's dismissal to the Ninth Circuit, which again affirmed the dismissal. Franklin v. United States, 46 F.3d 1140 (9th Cir. 1995) (unpublished disposition). Again, Franklin filed a Petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Supreme Court, which was denied. Franklin v. United States, 516 U.S. 829 (1995).

In 1995, Franklin enclosed a portion of the site with a chain link fence and began occupying the site. The BLM advised Franklin that the use was unauthorized and requested that he leave. Franklin refused to do so. The United States instituted a trespass action against Franklin. Franklin counter-sued asserting that he owned the property. On October 14, 1997, this Court enjoined Franklin from any further trespass on the property. The District Court dismissed Franklin's counter-claim for lack of subject matter jurisdiction for the same reason it had done so in 1994.

Later in 1997, Franklin filed yet another suit in Federal Court, which was again dismissed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. Again, Franklin appealed to the Ninth Circuit, which again affirmed the District Court's dismissal. Franklin v. Bilbray, 172 F.3d 56 (9th Cir. 1999) (unpublished disposition). Franklin again filed a Petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Supreme Court, which was again denied. Franklin v. Bilbray, 528 U.S. 863 (1999).

Franklin joins with new Plaintiffs, R. Franklin and Owens, seeking this Court's review of issues arising from the rejection of Franklin's DLE application for the fifth time, this time seeking review of the IBLA's 1996 dismissal for lack of jurisdiction of Franklin and R. Franklin's appeal from the informational letters from BLM.

DISCUSSION

The Court finds that, for a variety of reasons, Defendants' motion to dismiss should be granted. First, this Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction to hear this claim. Second, even if this Court's jurisdiction was proper, the applicable statute of limitations has run and this claim is effectively barred. Third, the doctrine of claim preclusion prevents plaintiffs from bringing this claim. Finally, there is an alleged lack of standing, but because the aforementioned reasons require this Court to dismiss the action, standing will not be addressed.

As a preliminary issue, because Plaintiffs appear pro se, this Court has liberally construed Plaintiffs' pleadings, in accordance with Eldridge v. Block, 832 F.2d 1132, 1137 (9th Cir. 1987) (citing Boag v. MacDougall, 454 U.S. 364 (1982).

A. Motion to Dismiss

i. Legal Standard

Rule 12(b)(1) of the Fed. R. Civ. P. provides that a court may dismiss a complaint for, "lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter." "Whenever it appears by suggestion of the parties or otherwise that the court lacks jurisdiction of the subject matter, the court shall dismiss the action." Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3).

Rule 12(b)(6) of Fed. R. Civ. P. provides that a court may dismiss a complaint for "failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted." "[A] complaint should not be dismissed for failure to state a claim unless it appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts in support of his claim which would entitle him to relief." Conley v. Gibson, 355 U.S. 41, 45-46 (1957); see also Yamaguchi v. U.S. Dept. of the Air Force, 109 F.3d 1475, 1481 (9th Cir. 1997). All factual allegations set forth in the complaint "are taken as true and construed in the light most favorable to [p]laintiffs." Epstein v. Washington Energy Co., 83 F.3d 1136, 1140 (9th Cir. 1999). Dismissal is appropriate "only if it is clear that no relief could be granted under any set of facts that could be proven consistent with the allegations." Hishon v. King & Spalding, 467 U.S. 69, 73 (1984); see also McGlinchy v. Shell Chem. Co., 845 F.2d 802, 810 (9th Cir. 1988).

ii. Subject Matter Jurisdiction

Plaintiffs seek this Court's review of the IBLA's 1996 dismissal of an appeal from a 1995 informational letter from BLM to Plaintiffs Franklin and R. Franklin. Plaintiffs contend that subject matter jurisdiction exists because Plaintiffs appealed the 1995 letter to the IBLA, and therefore the IBLA's decision is final and this Court may review the decision per 43 C.F.R. § 4.21. Because the letters in question, however, contained only information pertaining to the rejection of Franklin's DLE application, it is evident that the 1996 appeal to the IBLA was actually an appeal of the 1993 rejection of the DLE application.

The Department of Interior requires a party to exhaust its administrative remedies before a District Court may properly assume jurisdiction. Doria Mining and Eng'g Corp. v. Morton, 608 F.2d 1255, 1257 (9th Cir. 1979)(citing 43 C.F.R. § 4.21(b)). Administrative remedies regarding Department of Interior decisions are exhausted only upon disposition of an appeal by the IBLA. Id.

This Court lacks jurisdiction to hear this case for the same reason it lacked jurisdiction to hear Franklin's four previous claims arising from the rejection of his DLE application. Franklin failed to appeal the 1993 rejection of his application to the IBLA within thirty days of its issuance and therefore he has failed to exhaust his administrative remedies. As such, this Court lacks jurisdiction to hear this claim.

iii. Statute of Limitations

Even assuming, arguendo, that this Court has jurisdiction to hear the claim, the claim is barred by the six year statute of limitations. The Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. §§ 701-706 (APA), under which the current claim is brought, does not specify a particular statute of limitations. It is therefore fitting to apply 28 U.S.C. § 2401 to claims filed pursuant to the APA. Sierra Club v. Penfold, 857 F.2d 1307, 1315 (9th Cir. 1998). 28 U.S.C. § 2401 provides, "Every civil action commenced against the United States shall be barred unless the complaint is filed within six years after the cause of action first accrues." Under the APA, a cause of action accrues from the date final agency action is taken, or the date from which all administrative remedies are exhausted. Spannus v. United States Dept. of Justice, 824 F.2d 52, 56 (D.C. Cir. 1987).

To constitute a final agency action, the action "must mark the consummation of the agency's decision-making process – it must not be of a merely tentative or interlocutory nature." Bennet v. Spear, 520 U.S. 154, 177-8 (1997) (citing Chicago and southern Airlines, Inc. v. Waterman S.S. Corp., 333 U.S. 103, 113 (1948)). Furthermore, "the action must be one by which rights or obligations have been determined, or from which legal consequences will flow." Id. (citing Port of Boston Marine Terminal Assn. v. Rederiaktiebolaget, Transatlantic, 400 U.S. 62 (1970)). Finally, an administrative decision is final if a party has failed to file a notice of appeal within the requisite time period. Taylor v. Heckler, 765 F.2d 872, 876-77 (9th Cir. 1985).

Accordingly, Franklin's cause of action accrued in 1993 when the BLM denied his DLE application on remand because the decision was the consummation of the agency's decision making process in that absent further appeal to the IBLA by Franklin, the BLM would take no further action, and the decision would stand as final. The decision also had legal consequences which included denying Franklin title to the land which later resulted in a trespass action against

Franklin. Finally, Franklin's failure to appeal the 1993 rejection to the IBLA within the 30 day window following the rejection also resulted in the rejection becoming final agency action. Given that the cause of action accrued in 1993, it is clear that the six year statute of limitations has run and therefore Plaintiffs are barred from bringing this claim.[1]

Claim Preclusion

Claim preclusion bars "any lawsuits on any claims that were or could have been raised in a prior action." Stewart v. U.S. Buncorp, 297 F.3d 953, 956 (9th Cir. 2002) (emphasis omitted). "Claim preclusion applies if there is (1) an identity of claims; (2) a final judgment on the merits; and (3) identity or privity between the parties." Providence Health Plan v. McDowell, 362 F.3d 1243, 1249 (9th Cir. 2004) (quoting Owens v. Kaiser Found. Health Plan, Inc., 244 F.3d 708, 713 (9th Cir. 2001).

> In determining whether the prior litigation involved the same claim, we consider four questions: (1) whether rights or interests established in the prior judgment would be destroyed or impaired by prosecution of the second action; (2) whether substantially the same evidence is presented in the two actions; (3) whether the two suits involve infringement on the same right; and (4) whether the two suits arise out of the same transaction nucleus of facts. The fourth question is most important.

Gospel Missions of America v. City of Los Angeles, 328 F.3d 548, 555 (9th Cir. 2003). Claim preclusion also applies to final administrative decisions and the same general rules apply to administrative decisions as apply to judicial decisions. Taylor, 765 F.2d 876-77.

[1] Even if the cause of action accrued upon the IBLA's dismissal of Franklin's appeal in 1996, the statute of limitations has nevertheless run.

Claim preclusion bars Plaintiffs from bringing this action because all three requirements for claim preclusion are met.

Identity of Claims: The transactional nucleus of facts out of which this claim arises is the same as that which gave rise to Franklin's previous proceedings. The transactional nucleus of facts giving rise to these actions has consistently been the BLM's rejection of Franklin's DLE application.

Final Judgment on the Merits: When Franklin failed to appeal the BLM's 1993 decision rejecting his application, the decision on the merits became final. Furthermore, the Court's decision in the United States trespass action against Franklin is also a final decision on the merits because it necessarily found that Franklin did not own the property. Franklin appealed this decision and the Ninth Circuit affirmed, meaning that decision is also final.

Privity Among Parties: "Privity may exist if there is substantial identity between parties, that is, there is sufficient commonality of interest." Gospel Missions, 328 F.3d at 556. Plaintiffs R. Franklin and Owens now assert an interest in the site because Plaintiff Franklin entered into a contract for sale with R. Franklin and Owens for portions of the site. R. Franklin and Owens' interests in the site are derivative of Franklin's interest, and all parties share the same interest in establishing validity of title. Furthermore, had Franklin been successful in establishing title in any of his previous claims, R. Franklin and Owens' claims would be moot because the contracts for sale were executed in 2002, many years after Franklin's failed attempts to establish ownership of the site.

Accordingly, all the elements of claim preclusion have been met, and Plaintiffs are barred from re-litigating this action.

iv. Standing

Because the Court finds it necessary to grant Defendants' motion to dismiss for the reasons discussed supra, the Court finds it unnecessary to address the issue of standing.

B. Motion for Sanctions

Plaintiffs' motion for sanctions is predicated on the notion that Defendants' motion to dismiss was made fraudulently. As this Court has seen fit to grant Defendants' motion to dismiss, the Court obviously does not agree that the motion was fraudulent. Accordingly, the Plaintiffs' motion for sanctions is denied.

CONCLUSION

Accordingly, and for good cause appearing,

8

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Defendants' Motion to Dismiss pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(1) and (6) (#10) is GRANTED. Plaintiffs' Motion for Sanctions pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 11 is DENIED.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

BOBBY LEN FRANKLIN, et al.,
Petitioners, Plaintiffs,
v.
UNITED STATES, et al.,
Respondents, Defendants

Filed: 2/2/04, No.: CV-S-04-0128-RLH-PAL
COMPLAINT

I. Jurisdiction This is an action to redress the rights secured by and in the Federal Administrative Procedures Act 5 USC § 702 – Right of review: … . The final administrative Order for review was certified on 12/19/96, IBLA 96-111; 96-163, Desert Land Entries, Motion to Consolidate Granted; Appeals Dismissed. Such IBLA Order is final for the Department of the Interior, for judicial review.

II. Venue

This action properly lies in this Court because the subject property is located in Clark County, Nevada, whereas the Respondents claims a conflicting interest in the Plaintiffs Estates.

III. Parties

All parties claim conflicting ownership to the land description of record.

IV. Alleged Violations

1. The Respondents falsely utters that their "Mineral in Character" contest brought under 43 CFR 2520.0-8(a) was not fully adjudicated and finally "reversed" in Franklin, 116 IBLA 29 (1990), causing Petitioners' Title Insurance Policies to be rejected. The Respondent(s) currently refuses to clear-list the Petitioners property with the county tax assessor, upon the (above) perpetual lie, insubordinate to his ministerial duty 43 CFR § 1862.6.

2. The final IBLA Order on review mistakenly "rejected" to specifically address the Respondent's unlawful misconduct noted above, thus, has capriciously "Dismissed" the Plaintiffs stare decisis property right pleaded under 43 USCA §1165, 43 CFR §1862.6.

V. Relief

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs pray for the following:

1. Hold unlawful and set-aside the Respondent's false decision noted above;

2. Compel the Defendant to clear-list the Plaintiffs real property right with the county assessor, so Plaintiffs can enjoy purchasing title insurance and paying taxes on their recorded titles;

3. Any other relief decided appropriate.

ORDER

Bobby D. Franklin and his son Bobby L. Franklin appeal from identical letters dated October 27, 1995, issued by the Las Vegas District Manager, Bureau of Land Management (BLM), responding to questions regarding their desert land entry applications N-52292 and N-49548, filed pursuant to the Desert Land Act, as amended, 43 U.S.C. §§ 321-339 (1994). BLM noted that inasmuch as appellants had exhausted their appeals procedures, which were unsuccessful, it was closing their application files.

On August 8, 1988, Bobby L. Franklin filed his desert land entry application for lands located in the S1/2 of the SE1/4, sec. 16, T. 32 S., R. 66 E., Mount Diablo Meridian. On November 21, 1989, Bobby D. Franklin filed his desert land entry application for the adjacent lands in the N1/2 of the same SE1/4.

Bobby L. Franklin appealed BLM's October 13, 1988, decision rejecting his claim on the basis that "the public lands affected by your DLE [desert land entry] filing N-49548, are appropriated (by mining claims) and thereby rendered unsuitable under the Desert Land Act and not subject to disposition." Under 43 CFR 2520.0-8 (a)(1), in order for lands to be subject to entry under the desert land law, they must be nonmineral in character. In Bobby L. Franklin, 116 IBLA 29 (1990), the Board reversed BLM's decision noting that the mere fact of location of a mining claim does not establish the mineral character of the land. The Board stated that it found no clear evidence in the record to support the conclusion that the land in question was mineral in character. Consequently, the Board remanded the case to BLM for reconsideration of Bobby L. Franklin's application and determination of whether the land should be classified as open to desert land entry.

Pursuant to the Board's decision, BLM produced a mineral report dated July 16, 1992, for the SW1/4 of sec. 16 which found the land embraced by the Franklins' applications to be mineral in character and therefore not available for appropriation under the Desert Land Act. BLM issued two decisions on November 12, 1993, denying the Franklins' applications based on the findings of the mineral report.

IBLA 96-111, 96-163

Neither Bobby D. Franklin nor Bobby L. Franklin appealed BLM's decision to this Board. Instead, they instituted action in the Federal district court. Bobby Dean Franklin v. United States, CV-S-93-1203-PMP (LRL) (D. Nev. May 16, 1994); Bobby Len Franklin v. United States, CV-93-01140-PMP. The Government moved to dismiss on the grounds that the Franklins had failed to exhaust their administrative remedies. The court granted the motion stating that when the Franklins received the adverse decisions from BLM, they were required to appeal to the Board. The court found that the Franklins' failure to do so constituted a failure to exhaust their administrative remedies. Therefore, the court concluded that it lacked jurisdiction to hear their appeals.

On appeal to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, the court reviewed the district de novo and affirmed the dismissal for lack of jurisdiction in two memorandum decisions dated January 10, 1995. Bobby L. Franklin v. United States, 46 F.3d 1140 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 116 S.Ct. 100 (1995); Bobby D. Franklin v. United States, 46 F.3d 1141 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 116 S.Ct. 123 (1995).

By letters dated October 27, 1995, BLM informed the Franklins that it was closing the files in their desert land entry application cases. The Franklins now appeal the letters. In their statement of reasons, the Franklins assert that the District Manager erred in refusing to issue patents as required by the Confirmation Statute, 43 U.S.C. § 1165 (1994) and 43 CFR 1862.6, the corresponding regulation.

In response, BLM contends that the appeals must be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. BLM asserts that the Franklins are not "adversely affected" by the letters closing the files within the meaning of 43 CFR 4.410(a), and therefore those letters are not reviewable by the Board. BLM also points out that, to the extent that the appeals include reference to the BLM's 1993 decisions denying there desert land entry claims, the appeals must fail because they were not timely filed. BLM asserts that absent a timely appeal, the Board must dismiss for lack of jurisdiction.

In reply to BLM's response, Bobby L. Franklin essentially reiterates the argument presented in his statement of record for appeal.

On November 4, 1996, the Franklins filed a motion to consolidate their appeals. In light of the fact that the BLM letters dated October 27, 1995, from which these appeals are taken are identical, and the arguments presented on appeal are the same, the motion for consolidation is granted.

The doctrine of administrative finality, like its judicial counterpart res judicata, bars reconsideration of prior actions which were or could have been subject to direct review, in subsequent or collateral proceedings, except upon a showing of compelling legal or equitable reasons. Keith Rush d/b/a Rush's Lakeview Ranch, 125 IBLA 346, 351 (1993) and cases cited. Where an appellant attempts to raise issues that were finally decided in an earlier decision which was not appealed, the appeal is not timely as to those matters which could have been previously decided. The Wilderness Society, 106 IBLA 46, 53 (1988).

In its decisions dated November 12, 1993, BLM rejected the Franklins' desert land entry applications because the lands embraced by the applications were determined to be mineral in character and therefore not subject to entry as desert land. If the Franklins wanted to dispute the rejection of their applications, they were required to do so within 30 days of receipt of BLM's decision. See 43 CFR 4.411(a). They did not do so. The timely filing of an appeal is jurisdictional and the failure to file timely mandates dismissal of the appeal. 43 CFR 4.411(c); D. R. Johnson Lumber Co., 106 IBLA 379, 382-83 (1989). The Franklins cannot use BLM's response to its questions concerning desert land entry to overcome their failure to appeal the November 12, 1993, decision.

We note that the Franklins argued before the Ninth Circuit that the district court should have asserted its jurisdiction under the Confirmation Statute, 43 U.S.C. § 1165 (1994), regardless of their failure to exhaust administrative remedies. This statute places a restriction on the power of the Secretary of the Interior to contest an entryman's right to a patent on desert land and assures the entryman of rights to a patent if the Secretary fails to contest the entry within two years. The Ninth Circuit disposed of this argument by stating that the statute does not provide an independent basis for the district court's jurisdiction or excuse a party's failure to exhaust administrative remedies.

To the extent appellants have raised arguments which we have not specifically addressed herein, they have been considered and rejected.

Therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to the Board of Land Appeals by the Secretary of the Interior, 43 CFR 4.1, the motion to consolidate is granted and the appeals are dismissed.

DECISION ..... OCT 27, 1995

Mr. Bobby L. Franklin
HC 770, Box 41531
Pahrump, NV. 89041

Dear Mr. Franklin:

Thank you for meeting with me over the past few weeks. I appreciate and respect your comments concerning your desert land entry application.

You had questions concerning the "receiver's receipt". This receipt deals with the payment of the balance of the $1.25 per acre purchase price of the land and is payable at the time that final proof of development to qualify for patent is filed. The $15 filing fee and the $0.25 per acre deposit payable with the filing of the application for entry have no standing to create any rights to receive title to the land described in a desert land entry application. In order for any right to title to the land to vest in the applicant, the BLM must issue an entry allowed decision. Even then the right granted must be perfected by developing the land to meet the reclamation requirements of the desert land act. Development must be followed by timely submittal of final proof to document that development. As part of the final proof taking, the entryman must pay the balance of the purchase price, which is $1.00 per acre. To acknowledge payment of this balance, the "receiver's receipt" is issued. This is the receipt that triggers the two-year clock to mandate that BLM issue patent, or timely initiate contest of an inadequately developed entry. If contest does not occur timely, then and only then, is the entryman entitled to a patent.

You submitted "INTERROGATORIES" on your visit of October 16. It is not necessary to answer your request as the decision to reject your application, dated October 25, 1993, was appropriate.

Inasmuch as you have exhausted your appeals procedures, which were unsuccessful, we are closing your application file. If you have any questions, please contact Larry Sip of this office at 647-5063.

Sincerely,
s/Michael F. Dwyer
District Manager

TITLE 43 OF THE CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATION

SECTION 1862.6 - PATENT TO ISSUE AFTER 2 YEARS FROM DATE OF MANAGER'S FINAL RECEIPT.

(A) THE DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES IN THOMAS J. STOCKLEY ET AL., V. UNITED STATES, DECIDED JANUARY 2, 1923 (260 U.S. 532, 67 L.ED. 390) HOLDS THAT AFTER THE LAPSE OF 2 YEARS FROM THE DATE OF THE ISSUANCE OF THE "RECEIVER'S RECEIPT" •UPON THE FINAL ENTRY OF ANY TRACT OF LAND UNDER_THE HOMESTEAD, OR DESERT-LAND LAWS, SUCH ENTRY, ENTITLED TO PATENT UNDER THE PROVISO TO SECTION 7 OF THE ACT OF MARCH 3, 1891 (26 STAT. 1098; 43 U.S.C. 1165), REGARDLESS OF WHETHER OR NOT THE MANAGER'S FINAL CERTIFICATE HAS ISSUED.

(B) THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES IN PAYNE V. U.S. EX REL. NEWTON (255 U.S. 438, L.ED. 720), DECIDED THAT NEWTON WAS ENTITLED TO A PATENT ON IIIS HOMESTEAD ENTRY UNDER THE PROVISO TO SECTION 7 OF THE ACT OF MARCH 3, 1891, 2 YEARS HAVING ELAPSED FROM THE DATE OF THE ISSUANCE OF THE RECEIVER'S FINAL RECEIPT UPON FINAL ENTRY, AND THERE BEING NO CONTEST OR PROTEST PENDING AGAINST THE VALIDITY OF THE ENTRY, BUT STATED THAT THE PURPOSE OF THE STATUTE WAS:

TO REQUIRE THAT THE RIGHT TO A PATENT WHICH FOR 2 YEARS HAS BEEN EVIDENCED BY A RECEIVER'S RECEIPT, AND AT THE END OF THAT PERIOD STANDS UNCHALLENGED, SHALL BE RECOGNIZED AND GIVEN EFFECT BY THE ISSUE OF THE PATENT WITHOUT FURTHER WAITING AND

DELAY, AND THUS TO TRANSFER FROM THE LAND OFFICERS TO THE REGULAR JUDICIAL TRIBUNALS THE AUTHORITY TO DEAL WITH SUBSEQUENT CONTROVERSY OVER THE VALIDITY OF THE ENTRY, AS WOULD BE THE CASE IF THE PATENT WERE ISSUED IN THE ABSENCE OF THE STATUTE.

• THE RECEIPTS FORMALY ISSUED BY THE RECEIVERS ARE NOW ISSUED BY THE MANAGER.

AMENDMENT V TO THE U.S. CONSTITUTION

TITLE 43--PUBLIC LANDS

CHAPTER 28--MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS

SUBCHAPTER II--DISPOSITION OF SUSPENDED ENTRIES AND CLAIMS; INVALID AND DEFECTIVE CLAIMS AND PATENTS THEREFOR

Sec. 1165. Suspension of entries for correction of clerical errors; patents

Whenever it shall appear to the Secretary of the Interior, or such officer as he may designate, that a clerical error has been committed in the entry of any of the public lands such entry may be suspended, upon proper notification to the claimant, through the local land office, until the error has been corrected; and all entries made under the preemption, homestead, desert-land, or timber-culture laws, in which final proof and payment may have been made and certificates issued, and to which there are no adverse claims originating prior to final entry and which have been sold or incumbered prior to the 1st day of March, 1888, and after final entry, to bona fide purchasers, or incumbrancers, for a valuable consideration, shall unless upon an investigation by a Government agent, fraud on the part of the purchaser has been found, be confirmed and patented upon presentation of satisfactory proof to the Land Department of such sale or incumbrance: Provided, That after the lapse of two years from the date of the issuance of the receipt of such officer as the Secretary of the Interior may designate upon the final entry of any tract of land under the homestead, timber-culture, desert-land, or preemption laws, or under this act, and when there shall be no pending contest or protest against the validity of such entry, the entryman shall be entitled to a patent conveying the land by him entered, and the same shall be issued to him; but this proviso shall not be construed to require the delay of two years from the date of said entry before the issuing of a patent therefor.

U.S. Supreme Court

STOCKLEY v. U S, 260 U.S. 532 (1923)

260 U.S. 532

v.
UNITED STATES.
No. 74.

Argued Nov. 20, 1922.
Decided Jan. 2, 1923.

[260 U.S. 532, 533] Mr. S. L. Herold, of Shreveport, La., for appellants.

Mr. Assistant Attorney General Riter, for the United States.

[260 U.S. 532, 536]

Mr. Justice SUTHERLAND delivered the opinion of the Court.

This is a suit in equity brought by the United States, as plaintiff, against the appellants, as defendants, by which a decree was sought adjudging the plaintiff to be the owner of a tract of land in the parish of Caddo, La., enjoining all interference therewith, and requiring the defendants to account for the value of oil and gas extracted by them therefrom.

The United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana, upon the report of a master, found for the plaintiff and entered a decree in accordance with the prayer of the bill ordering a restoration of possession and awarding damages against some of the defendants, including Stockley, for about $62,000.

The case comes to this court by appeal from the decree of the Circuit Court of Appeals affirming the decree of the District Court. 271 Fed. 632.

The defendants denied plaintiff's title and alleged that the land was the property of the defendant Stockley by virtue of his compliance with the homestead laws of the United States.

The conceded facts are that in 1897 Stockley took possession of the land and on November 13, 1905, made a preliminary entry thereof as a homestead. He complied with the provisions of the homestead laws, submitted final proof, including the required nonmineral affidavit, paid the commissions and fees then due, and on January 16, 1909, obtained the receiver's receipt therefor. Prior to that time, viz. on December 15, 1908, a large body of public lands, embracing within its boundaries the land in question, was withdrawn by an order of the President of the United States from all forms of appropriation. The withdrawal order was expressly made 'subject to existing valid claims.' The receiver receipt, omitting unnecessary matter, is in the following words: [260 U.S. 532, 537] 'Received of Thomas J. Stockley ... the sum of three dollars and one cent in connection with Hd. Final, Serial 0188 for [lands described] 71.25 acres. ...'

On March 17, 1910, Stockley leased the property in question to the defendant the Gulf Refining Company, which company subsequently drilled wells and developed oil. The rights of the other defendants are wholly dependent upon the title asserted on behalf of Stockley.

On July 16, 1910, after the report of a special agent confirming Stockley's claim of residence upon and cultivation and improvement of the lands, the Commissioner of the General Land Office ordered the case 'clear- listed and closed as to the Field Service Division.' Subsequently, and more than three years after the issuance of the receiver's receipt, viz. on February 27, 1912, a contest was ordered by the Commissioner of the General Land Office before the local register and receiver upon the charge that the land was mineral in character, being chiefly valuable for oil and gas, and that when Stockley made his final proof he knew or, as an ordinarily prudent man, should have known this fact. After a hearing, the register and receiver decided in favor of Stockley, but the Commissioner of the General Land Office reversed the decision and ordered the entry canceled. The Secretary of the Interior affirmed the Commissioner, with a modification allowing Stockley to obtain a patent for the surface only, under the provisions of the Act of July 17, 1914, c. 142, 38 Stat. 509 (Comp. St 4640a-4640c).

The defendants contended that the Commissioner of the General Land Office and the Secretary of the Interior were without authority to entertain this contest because prior thereto full equitable title had vested in Stockley and he had become entitled to a patent by virtue of the provisions of section 7 of the Act of March 3, 1891, c. 561, 26 Stat. 1095, 1099 (Comp. St. 5113). That section, so far as necessary to be stated, provides: [260 U.S. 532, 538] 'That after the lapse of two years from the date of the issuance of the receiver's receipt upon the final entry of any tract of land under the homestead, timber culture, desert land, or pre-emption laws, or under this act, and when there shall be no pending contest or protest against the validity of such entry, the entryman shall be entitled to a patent conveying the land by him entered, and the same shall be issued to him; but this proviso shall not be construed to require the delay of two years from the date of said entry before the issuing of a patent therefor.'

The court below rejected defendants' contention, holding that the receipt issued to Stockley was not a 'receiver's receipt upon the final entry' for the reason that, in the view of that court, a final entry could not become effective until the issuance of the certificate of the register. In other words, it was the opinion of the lower court that in order to constitute a final entry within the meaning of the statute above quoted, there must be an adjudication upon the proofs and the issuance of a final certificate, evidencing an approval thereof.

We think the language of the statute does not justify this conclusion. It must be assumed that Congress was familiar with the operations and practice of the Land Department and knew the difference between a receiver's receipt and a register's certificate. These papers serve different purposes. One, as its name imports, acknowledges the receipt of the money paid. The other certifies to the payment and declares that the claimant on presentation of the certificate to the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall be entitled to a patent.

The evidence shows that prior to the passage of the statute, and thereafter until 1908, the practice was to issue receipt and certificate simultaneously upon the submission and acceptance of the final proof and payment of the fees and commissions. In 1908 this practice was changed, so that the receipt was issued u on the submission [260 U S. 532, 539] of the final proof and making of payment, while the certificate was issued upon approval of the proof and this might be at any time after the issuance of the receipt. The receiver and register act independently, the former alone being authorized to issue the receipt and the latter to sign the certificate. The receipt issued to Stockley was after submission of his proof and payment of all that he was required to pay under the law. No certificate was ever issued by the register.

It is contended by the government that the receiver's receipt named in the statute should be restricted to a receipt issued simultaneously with the register's certificate after approval of final proofs, and that, after the change of 1908 in the practice of the department, a receipt issued before such approval does not come within the meaning of the statute. Such a receipt, it is contended, obtains no validity as a 'receiver's receipt upon the final entry' until after the proof has in fact been examined and approved.

We cannot accept this conception of the law. A change in the practice of the Land Department manifestly could not have the effect of altering the meaning of an act of Congress. What the act meant upon its passage, it continued to mean thereafter. The plain provision is that the period of limitation shall begin to run from the date of the 'issuance of the receiver's receipt upon the final entry.' There is no ambiguity in this language and, therefore, no room for construction. There is nothing to construe. The sole inquiry is whether the receipt issued to Stockley falls within the words of the statute. In Chotard v. Pope, 12 Wheat. 586, 588 (6 L. Ed. 737), this court defined the term entry as meaning:

> 'That act by which an individual acquires an inceptive right to a portion of the unappropriated soil of the country, by filing his claim in the office of an officer known in the legislation of several states by the epithet of an entrytaker, and corresponding [260 U.S. 532, 540] very much in his functions with the registers of land offices, under the acts of the United States.'

It was in this sense that the term 'final entry' was used in this statute. Having submitted to the proper officials proof showing full compliance with the law, and having paid all the fees and commissions lawfully due, Stockley had done everything which the law required on his part and became entitled to the immediate issuance of the receiver's receipt, and this receipt was issued and delivered to him. No subsequent receipt was contemplated or required. From the date of the receipt the entry may be held open for the period of two years, during which time its validity may be contested. Thereafter the entryman is entitled to a patent and the express command of the statute is that 'the same shall be issued to him.' Lane v. Hoglund, 244 U.S. 174, 37 Sup. Ct. 558; Payne v. United States ex rel. Newton, 255 U.S. 438, 41 Sup. Ct. 368.

That Stockley's acts constituted final entry is borne out by rulings of the Land Department. Thus in Gilbert v. Spearing, 4 Land Dec. 463, 466, Secretary Lamar said:

> 'When the homestead application, affidavit and legal fees are properly placed in the hands of the local land officers, and the land applied for is properly subject to entry, from that moment the right of entry is complete and in contemplation of law the land is entered.'

See, also, Iddings v. Burns, 8 Land Dec. 224, 226.

We are not at liberty to add to or take from the language of the statute. When Congress has plainly described the instrument from whose date the statute beings to run as the 'receipt upon the final entry,' there is no warrant for construing it to mean only a receipt issued simultaneously with the certificate or one issued after the adjudication on the final proof, which might be-and in this instance was-postponed indefinitely. It was to avoid just such delays for an unreasonable length of time-that is, for more than two years-that the statu e was enacted. Lane v. Hoglund, supra, and Land Department [260 U.S 532, 541] decisions cited. The purpose and effect of the statute are clearly and accurately stated by the Commissioner of the General Land Office in Instructions of June 4, 1914, 43 Land Dec. 322, 323, in the course of which it is said:

> 'There is no doubt that Congress chose the date of the receiver's receipt rather than of the certificate of the register as controlling, for the reason that payment by the claimant marks the end of compliance by him with the requirements of law. It would be manifestly unjust to make the right to a patent dependent upon the administrative action of the register, subjecting it to such delays as are incident to the conduct of public business and over which the claimant has no control. Payment, of which the receiver's receipt is but evidence, is, therefore, the material circumstance that starts the running of the statute, inasmuch as a claimant is and always has been entitled to a receipt when payment is made.'

It is urged, however, that in any event the receiver exceeded his authority in issuing the receipt, since the Commissioner of the General Land Office, on December 15, 1908, had instructed the register and receiver, among other things, as follows:

> 'Applications, selections, entries, and proofs based upon selections, settlements, or rights initiated prior to the date of withdrawal may be received by you and allowed to proceed under the rules up to and including the submission of final proofs. You must not, however, in such cases receive the purchase money or issue final certificate of entry, but must suspend the entries and proofs pending investigation as to the validity of the claims with regard to the character of the land and compliance with the law in other respects.'

These instructions were issued, as shown upon their face, in view of the presidential withdrawal order of the same date. We suggest, without deciding, that, inasmuch as the withdrawal order was expressly made subject to [260 U.S. 532, 542] existing valid claims, and Stockley's claim was obviously existing and valid, this instruction of the Commissioner was itself without authority, since, as applied to Stockley, it was in conflict with the withdrawal order. This has nothing to do with the question as to whether the lands were, in fact, mineral in character, which is another and different matter dealt with later. However, Stockley, as already shown, did, in act, make final entry and the receiver did, in fact, issue and deliver his receipt thereon. The case, therefore, falls within the terms of the statute and must be governed by it, unless the receipt be held for naught on the ground that it was issued contrary to the Commissioner's instruction. But the very object of the statute was to preclude inquiry upon that or any other matter, except as provided by the statute, after the expiration of two years from the date of the receiver's receipt. In United States v. Winona & St. Peter Railroad Co., 165 U.S. 463, 476, 17 S. Sup. Ct. 368, 371 (41 L. Ed. 789) this court had under consideration section 8 of the same act (26 Stat. 1099 [Comp. St. 5114]), limiting the time within which suits by the United States might be brought to annul patents. That section, it was said, recognizes:

> 'That when its proper officers, acting in the ordinary course of their duties, have conveyed away lands which belonged to the government, such conveyances should, after the lapse of a prescribed time, be conclusive against the government, and this notwithstanding any errors, irregularities or improper action of its officers therein.'

It was said further:

> 'Under the benign influence of this statute it would matter not what the mistake or error of the Land Department was, what the frauds and misrepresentations of the patentee were, the patent would become conclusive as a transfer of the title, providing only that the land was public land of the United States and open to sale and conveyance through the Land Department.'

In United ates v. Chandler-Dunbar Water Power Co., 209 U.S. 447, 450, 28 S. Sup. Ct. 579, 580 (52 L. Ed. 881), this section of the act was again under [260 U.S. 532, 543] consideration. A patent was attacked as void for the alleged reason that the land which it purported to convey had been reserved for public purposes, and upon that ground the application of the statute was denied, but this court said:

> 'It is said that the instrument was void and hence was no patent. But the statute presupposes an instrument that might be declared void. When it refers to 'any patent heretofore issued,' it describes the purport and source of the document, not its legal effect. If the act were confined to valid patents it would be almost or quite without use.'

To hold that the receipt here under consideration falls outside the terms of the statute would be to defeat the purpose of the statute and perpetuate the mischief which it sought to destroy. Prior to the decision in the case of Jacob A. Harris, 42 Land Dec. 611, 614 (quoted with approval in Lane v. Hoglund, supra), it had been held that the statute did not affect the conduct or action of the Land Department in taking up and disposing of final proof of entrymen after the lapse of the two-year period (Mertie C. Traganza, 40 Land. Dec. 300), but this view was sharply challenged and overruled in the Harris Case, where it was said:

> 'Passed, primarily, to rectify a past and to prevent future abuses of the departmental power to suspend entries, the proviso is robbed of its essential purpose and practically repleaded by the decision in the Traganza Case.'

The effective character of the receiver's receipt being established, the question, after the lapse of the two-year period, as to whether the land was mineral bearing, was no longer open. Inquiry upon that ground was then foreclosed, along with all others. Payne v. United States ex. rel. Newton, supra.

The bar of the statute likewise prevails, notwithstanding the executive withdrawal of December 15, 1908. The validity of that order is, of course, settled by the decision [260 U.S. 532, 544] in United States v. Midwest Oil Co., 236 U.S. 459, 35 Sup. Ct. 309, but, as already stated, there is excepted from the operation of the order 'existing valid claims.' Obviously this means something less than a vested right, such as would follow from a completed final entry, since such a right would require no exception to insure its preservation. The purpose of the exception evidently was to save from the operation of the order claims which had been lawfully initiated and which, upon full compliance with the land laws, would ripen into a title. The effect of a preliminary homestead entry is to confer upon the entryman an exclusive right of possession, which continues so long as the entryman complies in good faith with the requirements of the homestead law. Stearns v. United States, 152 Fed. 900, 906, 82 C. C. A. 48; Peyton v. Desmond, 129 Fed. 1, 12, 63 C. C. A. 651. Since it is conceded that Stockley made such an entry in 1905 and his compliance with the requirements of the homestead law prior to the withdrawal order is not questioned, it follows that he had, when that order was issued, an existing valid claim, within the meaning of the exception. The action of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, therefore, in directing a contest against Stockley's entry three years after the issuance to him of the receiver's receipt was unauthorized and void.

The decree of the Circuit Court of Appeals is reversed, and the cause remanded to the District Court, with directions to dismiss the bill of complaint.

SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTION PRESENTED

Supplemental to the Question Presented in the Petitioners' Petition for Writ of Certiorari:

Does the full Supreme Court of the United States have a duty to compel the lower Ninth Circuit Court(s) to abide by the Desert Land Laws of the United States, as it is written by Congress 43 USC §1165, as it is written by this Court in Stockley, et al., v. United States, 260 U.S. 532 (1923), for the national security of the United Sates and relief to the Katrina hurricane victims; and if so,

Should the undisputed "mineral in character" fraud upon the Court, perpetuated by the Interior Appellees and their noted past counsel, be reviewed and set aside, as required under the Administrative Procedures Act (APA) 5 USC §§701-706?

PARTIES TO THE PROCEEDINGS

The Petitioners, Plaintiffs-Appellants below, are:

1) Bobby Len Franklin, Desert Land Entryman N-49548, which was consolidated by final order IBLA 96-111, 96-163, with his father Bobby Dean Franklin, Desert Land Entryman N-52292. The legal description of their consolidated entries is the S.E. 1/4 of Section 16, T. 32 S., R. 66 E., Mount Diablo Meridian, consisting of (a square) 160-acres. Bobby Dean Franklin is not a party to the proceedings, due to his age and health problems. He is now 75-years old.
2) Robert Lee Franklin individually purchased a 20-acre Assignment in such consolidated entries, from his father Bobby Len Franklin, pursuant to 43 USC § 324, on October 11, 2002. Such Assignment is recorded in the lower courts and the Clark County Recorder's Office, with all State transfer taxes paid.
3) Donna Sue Owens, individually purchased a 20-acre Assignment in such consolidated entries, from her brother Bobby Len Franklin, pursuant to 43 USC § 324, on August 23, 2002. Such Assignment is recorded in the lower courts and the Clark County Recorder's Office, with all State transfer taxes paid.

Respondents, Defendants-Appellees below, are:

1) UNITED STATES, Department of the Interior Board of Land Appeals (IBLA), the final decision maker for such administrative (Interior) agency; and,
2) Mark Morse, District Manager, Las Vegas District, Nevada, Bureau of Land Management (BLM), who has the ministerial duty to issue public land patents in such District, 43 CFR § 1862.6.

I. JURISDICTION

On 10/17/05, "a waiver of right of Respondent - United States, et al. to respond", was filed. The jurisdiction submitted in the Petition for Writ of Certiorari is unopposed and undisputed, pursuant to Supreme Court Rule 15.

II. INTERVENING MATTER

Pursuant to Supreme Court Rule 15.8, the Petitioners' writ of certiorari was filed on June 15, 2005. Subsequently, the Katrina hurricane disaster occurred, which may bankrupt such hurricane victims, including most United States citizens. The attached Appendix ("App") I to XII clearly shows such disaster can be turned around into a God given Blessing, providing the Ninth Circuit Court(s) are compelled to abide to the desert land law codification 43 USCA §1165, as it is written by this Court in Stockley, et al., v. United States, 260 U.S. 532 (1923). The supplemental facts in descending chronological order are:

1. On 10/7/05, the clerk returned application to Justice O'Conner, for the full Court to consider. Please see, App. I.

2. On 9/29/05, Applicants served and attempted to file their supplementary application to Justice O'Conner, praying she command the Ninth Circuit Court(s) to abide to such desert land laws, as written, for sake of this nation, which included the email sent to President Bush, Dick Cheney, the GOP committee, and certain members of Congress. Please see, App. II-VI, Id. "Exhibit 1". There was no response.

3. On 6/17/05, Applicants served and attempted to file their amended application to Justice O'Conner, praying she recognize her Ninth Circuit Court(s) have judicial jurisdiction to virtually all desert lands in America, and are blockading citizens of there desert farming rights, contrary to the noted desert land law. App. VII-X. Attached thereto, is 43 USC § 323 Application to certain States, with Codification to the act of March 3, 1891, 43 USC §1165 patents.... Please see, App. XI-XII, "Exhibit 2".

ARGUMENT

The Petitioners – Applicants are simply stating that if the Ninth Circuit Court(s) were compelled to abide by the Desert Land Entries law 43 USC § 321 et seq., as it is written by this Court in Stockley, the Interior - Respondents would perform their ministerial duties, and every homeless Katrina victim could have "an opportunity to wealth and happiness", as described in App. IV-V, "Exhibit 1".

Such laws have been written for many years, and should be exercised, to achieve national prosperity, and prevent our great nation from the obvious poverty and chaos to come.

III. SUPPLEMENTAL MATTER

On 10/17/05, the U.S. Solicitor General filed a waiver to respond to the Petition for a writ of certiorari, on behalf of the Interior Respondents. Such Petition alleged the Interior Respondents and their past counsel misrepresented fraud on the lower courts. See, footnote 1, page 1 of Petition. Pursuant to Supreme Court Rule 15.2, such "mineral in character" fraud is unopposed and undisputed. For convenience of the Court, the supplemental facts in ascending order are:

1. On 8/18/88, pursuant to 43 USC § 322 Desert lands defined, and its BLM regulation 43 CFR 2520, two non-mineral affidavits were filed in the DLE N-49548 case file, with BLM. See, App. XIII-XIV.

2. On 10/13/88, pursuant 43 CFR 2520, the BLM District Manager (unsuccessfully) rejected such entry, contending such DLE was not "non-mineral in character". See, App. XV.

3. On 10/18/88, pursuant to 43 USC § 322, 43 CFR 2520, Bobby Franklin timely filed appeal with the IBLA, contending his DLE was "non-mineral in character". See, App. XVI-XVIII.

4. On 5/24/90, pursuant to 43 CFR 2520, the BLM District Manager (unsuccessfully) contended to IBLA that such desert land is "mineral in character", because of the sand and gravel dirt there. See, App. XVIII-XIX.

5. On 8/27/90, pursuant to 43 CFR 2520, after full argument from both sides, the IBLA finally "reversed" the BLM's "mineral in character" contest, as reported in Bobby L. Franklin, 116 IBLA 29 (1990), and the Interior Decisions of 1990. See, App. XX-XXIV.

ARGUMENT

Pursuant to the Administrative Procedures Act 5 USC §§ 701-706, the unopposed and undisputed "mineral in character" fraud on the court, misrepresented by the Interior Respondents and their past counsel, against Appellants' statutory right to confirm and patent their land titles, should be briefed on the merits, and criminally prosecuted by the Department of Justice, Paul D. Clement, counsel of Record.

IV. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, the unopposed and undisputed Petition for Writ of Certiorari should be granted, and a schedule order set for the briefs on the merits.

Pursuant to 28 USC § 1746, we state under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on this 21st day of October, 2005.

{OCT 7 – 2005}
{Supreme Court Clerk}

On June 16, 2005, the Petitioners served the Respondents and attempted to file their Amended Supreme Court Rule 22 Application To Justice Sandra Day O'Conner, which sought Justice O'Conner to review the statutory merits of this appeal and compel the Ninth Circuit Court(s) to abide with the Desert Land Entries law, as it is written by this Court in its landmark decision Stockley, et al., v. United States, 260 U.S. 532 (1923), and is attached herewith. Subsequently, the Katrina disaster occurred in the Gulf region.

On September 5, 2005, Petitioner - Bobby Franklin emailed president Bush; Dick Cheney; the GOP committee; and, certain members of Congress, his God sent Dream to turn such natural disaster into a Blessing, under the Desert Land Entries law, as it is written. Such email follows this Supplementary as "Exhibit 1".

Based on national security and justice to Petitioners, Justice O'Conner is requested to consider the merits of this appeal, and expedite the Ninth Circuit Court(s) an instruction to abide with the Desert Land Entries law of the United States, as it is written in Stockley.

Respectfully submitted by,

[INTERVENING EVENT]

September 5, 2005 -

Dear President Bush,

Pursuant to the Desert Land Entries law of the United States 43 USC 321 et seq., I have constructed a plan process to place 125,000 homeless families (500,000 citizens) from New Orleans, into a home of their own, each family on their own 20-acre farm, in the 13 western States 43 USC 323, with virtually no funding from the government, which in fact would feed the entire world within a few years!

My plan goes like this:

1. Every family capable of turning water valves, driving farm equipment, and who are citizens of requisite age would qualify 43 USC 321. All public lands exclusive of timber lands and mineral lands in the desert shall be deemed "desert lands" 43 USC 322. Assignments on each farm, to individuals, is legal for life, to pay off debts 43 USCA 324!

2. Every District Office of the Bureau of Land Management in such western States shall expedite each and every Desert Land Entry application, and place each DLE into an association, adjacent to one another, to form communities in the desert!

3. The "rural" communities formed may lien their 20-acres to purchase their mobile homes or houses, and to drill water wells in designated places, for their now created irrigation district. Pipelines or canals shall be dug to connect each 20-acre farm unit together, in each irrigation district or formed community!

4. The "urban" communities formed in a city or county may lien their 20-acres to purchase their homes, and to purchase or credit "effluent" (recycled) water from the city or county sanitation district(s). Pipelines or canals shall be dug to connect each 20-acre farm unit together!

5. All satisfactory 20-acre farm units shall be issued a land patent from the BLM, and all suspended entries shall be issued the same 43 USC 1165.

After put into action, this plan would in deed feed the entire world, while giving every homeless American an opportunity to wealth and happiness!

Please don't place anymore people to live below sea level.

Sincerely,

BOBBY FRANKLIN

APPLICATION TO JUSTICE SANDRA DAY O'CONNER

Pursuant to Supreme Court Rule 22, Justice O'Conner is urgently requested to consider the merits of this appeal, which clearly shows that the Ninth Circuit court(s) have rebelliously disregarded their judicial duty of mandamus law, which has created an arbitrary blockade against any or all Desert Land Entries 43 USCA § 321 et seq. of their individual farming rights on federal public lands in the arid desert.

The Ninth Circuit court(s) fail to consider, address, and disregards the purchased "receiver's receipt" issued to Franklin some 17-years ago, which is the only instrument for consideration under the following mandatory law:

1. The Ninth Circuit court(s) fail to consider, address, and disregards the Appellees' ministerial patent duty 43 CFR § 1862.6, which was administratively exhausted for judicial review;
2. The Ninth Circuit court(s) fail to consider, address, and disregards the expressed proviso by Congress in 43 USCA § 1165, which was administratively exhausted for judicial review; and,
3. The Ninth Circuit court(s) fail to consider, address, and arrogantly disregards the landmark decision of this Court in Stockley, et al., v. United States, 260 U.S. 532 (1923), which was administratively exhausted for judicial review.

The Ninth Circuit court(s) have undermined all individual activity in desert agriculture, while disregarding the Appellants' statutory right to judicial trial under the due process of law. Can the Ninth Circuit court(s) get away from abiding to Congress and this Highest Court of this land?

In essence, the Ninth Circuit court(s) have arbitrarily destroyed citizens of their 43 USC § 321 Entry right generally; of their 43 USC § 322 Desert lands defined; of their 43 USC § 323 Application to certain States; and, of their 43 USC § 324 Assignment of entries – by recklessly disregarding their mandatory right to ever patent their suspended entries 43 USC § 1165. The Ninth Circuit court(s) have judicial jurisdiction over the seven of thirteen western States 43 USC § 323, which includes all of the "Mohave/Mojave Desert". Such arid desert will remain a wasteland, void to irrigation farming purposes for individual citizens, until the Ninth Circuit court(s) are compelled to abide by the stare decisis mandamus law as it is written.

Justice Sandra Day O'Conner should consider the merits of Appellants' Petition for Writ of Certiorari, consider the Appellants' statutory right to patent their consolidated Desert Land Entries and their Assignments, and compel the Ninth Circuit court(s) their judicial duty to abide by such stare decisis Desert Land Entries law that they have so recklessly disregarded to address, enforce or protect.

Mar. 3, 1891, ch. 561,
Sec. 2, 26 Stat. 1097; Jan. 6, 1921, ch. 12, 41 Stat. 1086.)

Codification

Section is from the first clause of section 3 of act Mar. 3, 1877, and the first clause of section 8 of act Mar. 3, 1877, as added by act Mar. 3, 1891.

The second clauses of section 3 and 8 of act Mar. 3, 1877, are incorporated in the second paragraph of section 322 and section 325 of this title, respectively.

The first clause of section 3 of act Mar. 3, 1877, provided that ``this act shall only apply to and take effect in the States of California, Oregon and Nevada, and the Territories of Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona,

New Mexico and Dakota".

The first clause of section 8 of act Mar. 3, 1877, as added by act Mar. 3, 1891, provided for the inclusion of Colorado. The Territories of Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico and Dakota have become States since the enactment of act Mar. 3, 1877, the Territory of Dakota being divided, to form the States of North and South Dakota.

Section as Unaffected by Submerged Lands Act

Provisions of this section as not amended, modified or repealed by the Submerged Lands Act, see section 1303 of this title.

Section Referred to in Other Sections

NOTICE OF APPEAL

DLE N-49548
43 CFR 2520 * 43 USC §322
(NV-050.1)

Dear Gentlemen,

Reasons, written arguments, &/or briefs will be attached and will follow this document.

Thank You,
s/Bobby L. Franklin

(Page 1 of 5 on appeal)

I. Un-appropriated

Eight individuals recorded mining claims on the entirety of sections 9 & 16, in 1982, on the same day, at the same time. They also have the same attorney: Marshall S. Ashcroft, c/o Leonard Gang, 415 So. 6th St., #101, Las Vegas, NV. Four of these eight individuals also applied for Mineral Patent #N-46678 on April 30, 1987, for these two square miles of land, that is 1,280 acres of valuable land in Laughlin, Nevada.

I state that there has been no physical labor or mining production on this land. It definitely doesn't meet the "Marketability" or "Prudent Man Test", for mining claims or mining patents. The law reads in: "Staking a Mining Claim on Federal Lands" (U.S.D.I.B.L.M.) "To Patent or Not to Patent":

"If the claim is invalid, it will be cancelled and the claimant will forfeit all rights to the claim." Therefore, due to the long period of time this land has been under invalid mining claim(s) (5-years), and long, un-timely period of time it has been under an application for a mineral patent (N-46678), I am challenging the law to either (a) forfeit all rights to the claimants, or (b) grant full patent to the claimants.

I am challenging this law only because I have applied for 80-acres (see enclosed) of irrigable land for agriculture (DLE). This land area is right next to the Clark County Agriculture Project that is irrigating hundreds of acres and is growing bermuda grass hay. My source for water is the Clark County Sanitation District, who is anxious to sell me effluent water for my purposes, as well as theirs. This 80-acres is in a short distance from the effluent water source but, it is in part of the 1,280-acres that have been applied for a Mineral Patent.

The 80-acre farm unit project would be an asset to the community, Clark County, Nevada, and the United States, under conservation of natural resources.

(Page 3 of 5 on appeal)

I state there is no mining production or valuable minerals on section 16. I state that, by law, I need to be granted entry on my DLE, for the 80-acres, as I cannot put this development farm project on hold indefinitely.

(Page 4 of 5 on appeal)

II. Non-Mineral

As to whether or not my 80-acres that I applied for (DLE) would interfere with sand and gravel production, I will point out: that, besides the few small incorporated communities, there is hundreds of miles, in any direction, on any highway, of un-developed, BLM land that very rich in sand and gravel dirt.

Sincerely Yours,
s/Bobby L. Franklin

Memorandum May 24, 1990

To: Norm Schwab, Board of Land Appeals, Office of the Secretary
From: District Manager, Las Vegas
Subject: Desert Land Entry Application N-49548

This memorandum will confirm your telephone conversation of Monday, May 21, 1990 with Tom Cook of my minerals staff. In answer to your questions:

1. The subject lands were not classified regarding their suitability for desert land entry. It was believed that the possessory right of the mining claimants constituted an "appropriation" of the lands and, as such, the lands were not open to entry under the desert land laws.

2. A final certificate was issued for mineral patent application N-46678 and the case file was forwarded to this office for the validity examination of the mining claims. In U.S. v. Harper, 8 IBLA 364 (1972), the Board said, "The issuance of a final certificate on a mineral entry does not impart that discovery of a valuable mineral has been made ... but rather only that the proper papers and fees have been submitted." The mineral patent application was withdrawn after a GAO auditing team inspected the claims in May, 1988. Had the mineral patent application not been withdrawn, my minerals examiners would not have clear-listed the mining claims for patent, but would have recommenced the initiation of contest proceedings against the claims.
3. It is the opinion of my minerals examiners that the subject lands are prospectively valuable (PV) for common variety sand and gravel and, as such, are mineral in character. They have not yet prepared an official mineral in character report for the subject lands. In order to be subject to entry under the desert land laws, public lands must be non-mineral in character. Even a large deposit of good quality gravel precludes entry. Guy Curtis, A-28140 (January 26, 1960); Norma L. McBride, 73 IBLA 165 (1983).

BOBBY L. FRANKLIN

IBLA 89-35 Decided August 27, 1990

Appeal from a decision of the District Manager, Las Vegas District, Nevada, Bureau of Land Management, rejecting desert land entry application N-49548.

Reversed and remanded.

1. Desert Land Entry: Applications - Desert Land Entry: Lands Subject To - Mining Claims - Location - Segregation

   A decision rejecting a desert land entry application on the ground that the land is appropriated by unpatented mining claims will be reversed where a final certificate of mineral entry has not been issued for the land at the time the desert land entry application was filed.

APPEARANCES: Bobby L. Franklin, pro se
OPINION BY ADMINISTRATIVE JUDGE KELLY

Bobby L. Franklin has appealed from a decision of the District Manager, Las Vegas District, Nevada, Bureau of Land Management (BLM), dated October 13, 1988, rejecting his desert land entry (DLE) application, N-49548, stating "the public lands affected by your DLE filing N-49548, are appropriated (by mining claims) and thereby rendered unsuitable under the Desert Land Act and not subject to disposition."

In his statement of reasons for appeal, appellant challenges the propriety of the decision on the basis that there has been no physical labor or mining production on the land in question over the past 5 years. Although there were multiple filings of mining claims and a mineral patent application (N-46678) filed involving 1,280 acres of valuable land in Laughlin, Nevada, he asserts nothing has been done to work these claims and the development of his DLE should not be held up indefinitely.

The record shows that appellant filed DLE application N-49548 with BLM on August 18, 1988, pursuant to 43 USC §321 (1982). The application described 80 acres of land located in the SE1/4 of sec. 16, T. 32 S., R. 66 E., Mount Diablo Meridian, Clark County, Nevada. On the same date appellant filed a protest of mineral patent application N-46678 which had been previously filed with BLM may 27, 1987, by J. H. Edgar et al., for the Rojas Nos. 1-8 placer mining claims covering approximately 1,231.52 acres of public land in the same area in T. 32 S., R. 66 E.

BLM records confirm that the patent applicants submitted the required proofs, paid the filing fees, and deposited the required purchase money for the mineral entry final certificate for these Rojas Nos. 1-8 claims October 3, 1988. On November 28, 1988, BLM issued a decision noting that the mineral entry was allowed and the final certificate was issued effective that date. By letter of April 17, 1989, the applicants requested that mineral patent application N-46678 be withdrawn in its entirety because the company that was going to purchase black sands from the claims had gone out of business. BLM accepted the withdrawal request and the mineral entry involving the Rojas claims was cancelled as of April 17, 1989. [1]

The Board has noted that classification of the land as suitable for entry pursuant to section 7 of the Taylor Grazing Act "is a prerequisite to the approval of all entries" made under the desert land laws. 43 CFR 2400.0-3. [2] James A. Maleski, 102 IBLA 175, 180 (1989). Because no DLE applications may be allowed until the land has been classified as suitable for such entry, BLM must first look to see whether or not the land is classified or should be classified as open to DLE. In this instance the lands have not been previously opened to entry under the desert land laws. Although appellant's application also serves as a petition for classification where the land has not been classified, that classification determination has yet to be made by BLM this case. [3]

However, irrespective of the lack of classification, BLM attempted to dispose of the application on the lack of availability of the land due to the conflicting mining claims

[1] By a decision, dated May 2, 1989, BLM accepted the applicants withdrawal of the mineral patent application and cancelled the mineral entry which included Rojas Nos. 1-8 placer claims.

[2] Characteristics of land subject to disposition under the Desert Land Act are set forth in 43 CFR 2520.0-8. In Departmental regulation 43 CFR 2400.0-3(a), BLM notes that classification pursuant to 43 USC §315(f) (1982), is a prerequisite to approval of a DLE under 43 CFR Part 2520. Under 43 CFR 2521.2, an application must include a petition for classification unless the lands described in the application have been opened for disposition under the desert land laws. See generally 43 CFR Part 2450. This Board has affirmed the rejection of DLE applications on the ground that the land had not been classified as suitable for entry. See Duella M. Adams, 70 IBLA 63 (1983).

[3] Section 16 of the DLE application specifically provides an alternate petition for classification stating: "If the lands described in this application have not been classified as suitable for desert entry pursuant to the provisions on Section 7, of the Taylor Grazing Act of June 28, 1934, as amended, (43 CFR 315F), and the requirements of the regulations in 43 CFR Part 2400, please consider the application as a petition for such classification." of record. BLM rejected appellant's application, stating: "Regulations contained under 43 CFR 2520.0-8(a)(1) state in part: [I]n order for public lands to be subject to entry under the desert land law, such lands must not only be irrigable but also surveyed, unreserved, unappropriated, nonmineral in character * * *."

[1] Although BLM has not made an official determination based on a mineral report that the lands are, in fact, "mineral in character," BLM may have based its rejection of appellant's DLE in part on a presumption to that effect because of placer mining claim filings and a mineral patent application on record in the same area. However, this Board has recently noted that the mere fact of location of a mining claim does not establish the mineral character of the land. Nancy M. Swallow, 112 IBLA 321, 323 (1990), and cases cited therein. In Swallow we held that where BLM itself does not recognize the land described by DLE applications to be mineral in character, applicants are not precluded from entering this land under the desert land law for this reason. See California v. Rodeffer, 75 I.D. 176, 179 (1968). We find no clear evidence in the record to support the conclusion that the land in question is mineral in character.

As to BLM's conclusion that the lands are appropriated by mining claims, we have repeatedly recognized that longstanding Departmental precedent makes it clear that a mining claim segregates land from entry by others when a final certificate of mineral entry has been issued. Nancy M. Swallow, supra; See also Melvin Helit, 110 IBLA 144, 149-50 (1989); Scott Burnham, 100 IBLA 94, 110, 94 I.D. 429, 437 (1987). In the case at hand, the record is clear that, as of August 18, 1988, the date the DLE application was filed, no final certificate of mineral entry had issued. Accordingly, we find the lands in question were not appropriated at the time the DLE application was filed.

For the above reasons, we conclude that BLM's decision of October 13, 1988, should be reversed. Since the mineral patent application has since been withdrawn and the mineral entry cancelled, BLM should reconsider appellant's application and determine whether the land should be classified as open to DLE.

Therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to the Board of Land Appeals by the Secretary of the Interior, 43 CFR 4.1, the decision appealed from is reversed and the case is remanded to BLM for action consistent with this opinion.
